Crystal White (Assigns Essays)

Jenn Gossler is a senior from Lynchburg, VA. Her major is English Education. This will be Jenn's fourth semester tutoring for the Writing center. She enjoys tutoring because she likes to help students improve their writing skills.

Cassidy Lenhart is a junior Christian Studies Major from Morgantown, WV. She has always enjoyed writing and looks forward to helping others become better writers.

James "Smokey" Shott is presently retired. He edited and published a weekly newspaper for 14 years in Bluefield. He also directed Communications and Marketing at BRMC.

Santana Stevens is a senior at Bluefield College. She is majoring in English and has a minor in Education. Santana loves to paintball.

Crystal White is a staff member at Bluefield College and has been a tutor for the Writing Center for several years. She enjoys reading and writing as a hobby.

WHY USE THE WRITING CENTER

- To improve your writing skills
- To access free help that could improve your grade
- To gain knowledge that you will use the rest of your life
- To learn how to become an independent writer
- To gain confidence in yourself and your work
- To prepare for your career

WRITING TIP FOR OCTOBER:

Always proofread your paper. Read it out loud or have someone else read it out loud making changes until it makes sense. It may make sense in your head, but you may catch several mistakes that you did not know you had.

COWL'S NEW LOOK

Bluefield College is starting out fresh this year by making some changes to COWL. COWL, the Cooperative Online Writing Lab, has a new look, and a more helpful environment.

As most students know they can get free tutoring anytime they want. This tutoring comes in two different forms: traditional face to face tutoring and online tutoring. The great benefit about the online tutoring this year is students can track their essays to find out when they are complete. Each student is given an identification number, and even if it is 3:00 a.m., a student can check on his or her essay.

The best part about the online service COWL provides is the operating hours. COWL is open 24 hours a day 7 days a week, but closed for breaks.
